How to be a Good Human !!!

This life we live is one of daily experiences in the art of how to be a human, a good human at that. It is like a school classroom, with daily tests of patience, compassion, humility, our ego, forgiveness, understanding and growth. We are here to learn and learn we shall do, for we are to become loving, self confident, self aware, compassionate and humble souls, and as individuals, as we reach this goal, our energy changes, and that energy change, then rubs off onto people we meet, which in turn helps them to reach their own happy outcome in their journey. Sometimes the emotional issues that we are trying to overcome may take a bit of time, and sometimes we encounter situations where we wished we had of handled things differently. Just know that you will always have the opportunity to handle that situation differently next time. If you find yourself in this position one day, for instance, just say to yourself " Spirit, please give me an opportunity to talk to (person) again, with no one else around, and the outcome to be beneficial to myself and (person), and please protect me from any negativity "

You will be pleasantly surprised by how quickly that opportunity comes around, which then becomes another lesson learned in the classroom of life.

Magical Blessings Rhonda !!
